Sara Green is, first and foremost, a dressage to music enthusiast and has produced routines at all levels, from Riding Club Prelim right up to International Grand Prix. In the last few years she has put together the music for top riders such as Alice Oppenheimer and Danni Morgan.

Sara's aim is to demystify the whole process of getting started with DTM. Whether you want to use a professional to create your routine, or have a go at doing it yourself, she will give you insight into how to choose the right music for you and your horse. Above all, the aim is to show that dancing to music with your horse is great fun and within the capabilities of us all.
